

May – Memorial Day Roving Report:

UNBELIEVABLE!! As many of you know we had planned to enjoy the holiday week-end at Colorado Landing in LaGrange this past week-end. Well, around 11 am Friday morning, we were notified by the campground that we needed to evacuate. They were expecting waters levels of 3-4 feet over the swimming pool. Needless to say, we pulled up stakes and headed south. Hope everyone made it safely home or at least parked in a dryer spot. We have only received one report of difficulty on the travel home and that was the Helstrom's. Their passenger side awing came crashing down and the trip home was at a turtles pace but they made it safe and sound. Please keep the campground in your prayers, they are receiving more rain and run off from the high water out of San Antonio. There are several opportunities in the coming months for LSA to gather, several campgrounds are requiring early reservations so if you have any interest in attending and you will be in the area please make your reservations as soon as possible. We have been notified by the campgrounds the sites will be released and it will be difficult to schedule closer to rally date.
